LIVE PAIN ROUNDTABLE WEBINAR

CLINICAL USE OF EXTENDED-RELEASE BUPIVACAINE

Wed, September 18, 2024 | 7:00 PM CDT

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

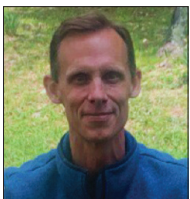

Join us for an interactive pain management roundtable featuring board-certified veterinary surgeon Dr. Andrew Jackson and veterinary anesthesiologist Dr. Jeff Wilson. This live webinar offers a unique opportunity to ask your pressing surgical questions and discuss practical solutions for managing pain in your small animal patients.

Andrew Jackson, DVM, DACVS-SA

Dr. Andrew Jackson was born in Scotland and moved to the US at ten years old. He completed his Bachelor of Science from the University of Colorado and his DVM degree from the University of Prince Edward Islands Atlantic Veterinary College. He completed an internship with Sacramento Animal Medical Group and a surgical residency at Michigan Veterinary Specialists. Dr. Jackson is a Diplomate within the American College of Veterinary Surgery (ACVS) and a frequent lecturer. He has extensive experience in emergency, soft tissue, and orthopedic surgery and currently practices at BluePearl Veterinary Partners in Eden Prairie, Minnesota.

Jeff Wilson, DVM, DACVAA, CVA

Dr. Wilson is a board-certified veterinary anesthesiologist currently living in Bluffton, SC. He attended North Carolina State University for veterinary school and completed a rotating internship and residency at the University of Tennessee. He has lived on the East Coast his whole life and has served on the veterinary school faculty at the University of Pennsylvania, Angell Animal Medical Center, and Virginia Tech. He has also worked in private practice near Philadelphia. Dr. Wilson is currently an anesthesia and pain management consultant.
