Program Overview

Join us on Sunday, January 19, 2025, for an exclusive, first-to-know live webinar on the latest advances in veterinary parasitology. We'll introduce a new monthly chewable tablet that protects against ticks, fleas, heartworm disease, roundworms, hookworms*, and tapeworms. Participants will receive two hours of RACE CE for attending.

Program Highlights

- The State of Veterinary Parasitology: Where are we? What works, what doesn't, and what new tools can you incorporate into your practice?
- Expert Insights: Hear from leading experts about how the latest innovations can transform your approach to parasite control.
- Interactive Q&A: Engage live with leading parasitologists to get answers to your most challenging questions.
